As a small business owner—government contracting can be overwhelming with the limited resources we have—CIRAS has provided us with the education, confidence, and support to grow our business through government contracts. CIRAS staff wants your business to be successful; they understand the benefits of the government contracts as well as the frustrations that go with them. The personal attention and experience they provide gives my company the confidence that the paperwork has been completed properly. If not for the CIRAS education and support, we would not have pursued these opportunities.

— Len Hoogenwerf, Owner, QC Analytical,
Le Claire, Iowa

When it came to understanding post-award assistance, specifically prime contracting, CIRAS staff was a key resource in educating our team and providing valuable insight on what we could expect.

— Joe Meier, Vice President of Operations,
Greater Machining & Manufacturing Co.,
Independence, Iowa
